Tulip Blends

Can't choose between all our amazing tulips? Choose the Tulip Blends and enjoy a lovely mix of selected tulips from our range. Our team of product development specialists put together these fantastic mixes that you can order in our webshop. Tulips blends from De Vroomen contain several tulip flower bulbs that know different colors, shapes, sizes, and flowering periods. This way, you have all you want, just in one package. Not only tulips are mixed, but also varying spring-flowering species, like daffodils. Choose your favorite color and click on the particular tulip blend you like. De Vroomen has been selling tulip flower bulbs for almost 95 years. We specialize in flower bulb retailing.

How to grow Tulip Blends?

The mix of different tulips flower bulbs requires varying care. All tulip blend bulbs need to plant in fall, to brighten your days in early spring. We literally can't wait for those blue-green leaves start to emerge as the earth awakens from its winter sleep.

- Tulips usually start to grow in March. If temperatures are freezing, the growth is delayed. Choose a spot with full or afternoon sun.
- The soil must be well-drained, fertile, and dry or sandy.
- All tulips dislike areas with excessive moisture.

The different flowering periods in one package causes extended flowering periods. Some varieties will bloom in early spring, and others bloom from late spring. This way, you create an extending tulip party in your garden.
